

PEOPLE

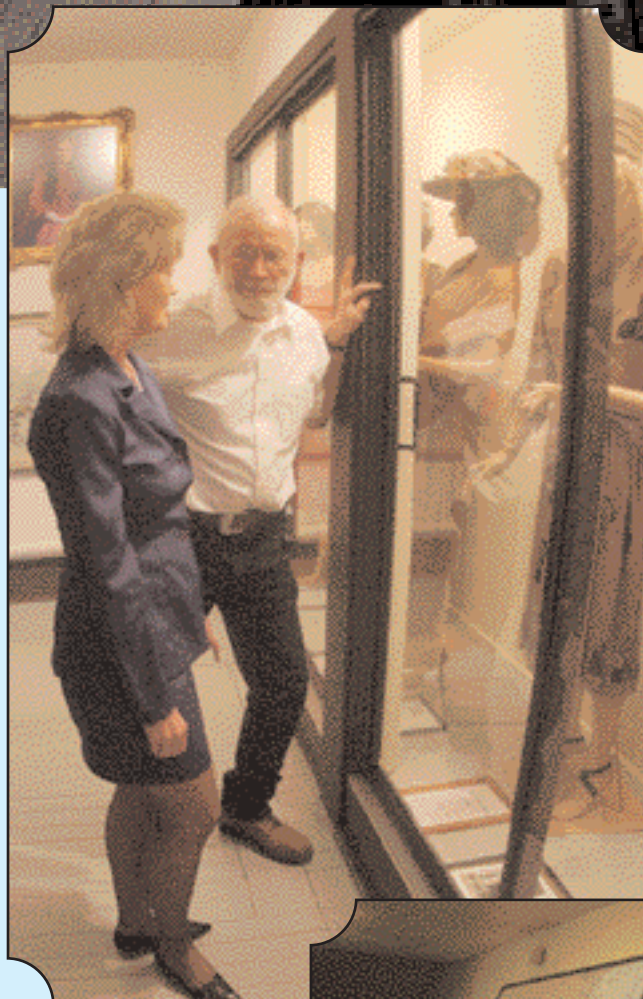

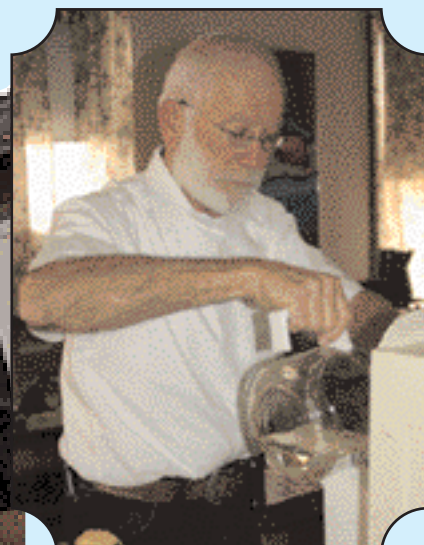

GROWING POPULATION

News-Sun A1
 Sunday, March 19, 2006

A DAY IN THE LIFE OF A MUSEUM DIRECTOR

Top Left: Museum director Jim Harris, a long-time Lea County resident, climbs a windmill on display at the Lea County Museum to do some minor repairs.
 Above: Harris cleans out the debris from the flower beds surrounding the Lea County Museum.
 Right: Harris adds a light bulb to new track lighting added in author Max Evan's new exhibit.
 Below: Harris starts every morning with a fresh pot of coffee.

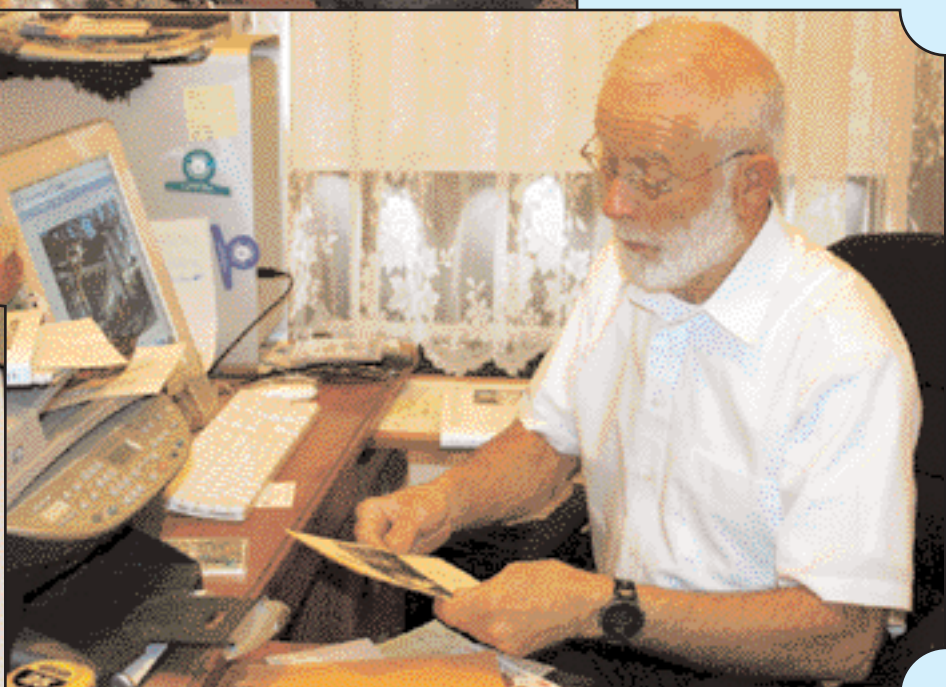

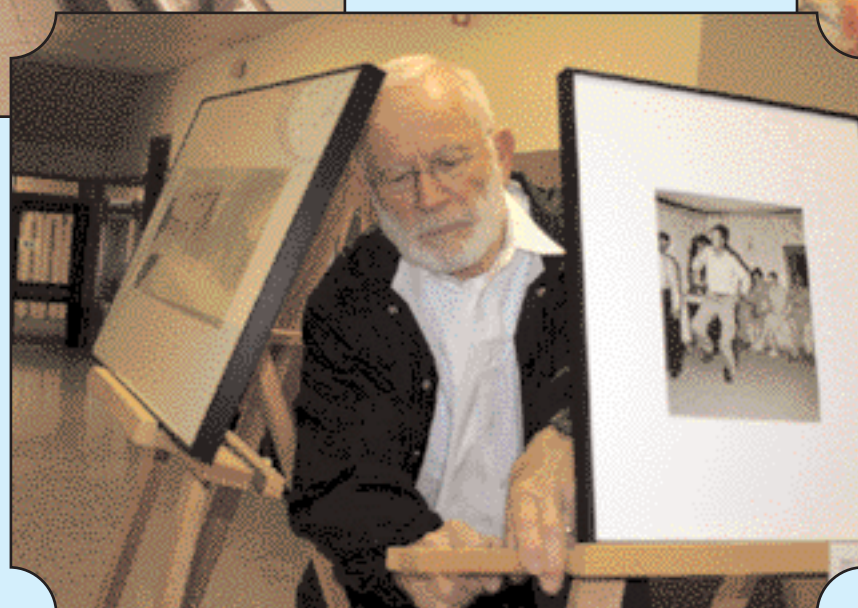

Clockwise from far left : Harris gives a tour of the exhibits on display at the Lea County Museum.

Harris takes a photo of a couple admiring a bronze sculpture on display at the Lea County Museum. Many of Harris' photos are used in brochures for the museum.

Harris sorts through paper work that ranges from bills, invitations and upcoming shows.

Harris arranges a photo exhibit on display at the Lea County Courthouse.

PHOTOS BY KIMBERLY RYAN/
 NEWS-SUN